

Newsletter: Surviving the Family Road Trip

Surviving the Family Road Trip

Cramming overworked adults, restless kids, a smelly pet or two and bags, snacks and games into the family car for a long drive is not exactly a recipe for serenity, but it can be survived and, dare say, enjoyed.

Make the best of your next family road trip!

The Best American Road Trips

Ready to hit the road now that you know how to survive a family road trip? Check out these trips.

From AOL Travel

Great American Road Trips: The ten best road trips, trips off the beaten path, the Elvis Trail and more.

MapQuest Weekend Getaways

Road Trips: Exciting multi-city, multi-day road trips categorized by region.

Day Trips: Great weekend drives from major U.S. cities.

Poll: How do you survive the drive?

What's the best way to occupy kids during a road trip? How much do you typically spend a day?

Let us know and find out how you compare to other families.

Sponsor: Drive Your Car With Peace of Mind

Get an extended warranty for your car. Claims handled professionally, promptly, and paid directly to repair facility. No risk to you.

Click for a free quote.

Survey: Tell Us What You Think! Win $500!

We are interested in what internet users think. Fill out the survey and you will be entered in a chance to win $500!

Here's what I think...

On MapQuest: Road Trip Planner

Use MapQuest's Road Trip Planner to create your own adventure. You can plan round-trip routes with multiple stops with information about nearby lodging, dining and attractions.

Start planning your next adventure.

Want to subscribe or unsubscribe to the MapQuest Newsletter?

This content is for informational purposes only. No representation is made or warranty given as to its quality, accuracy or validity. User assumes all risk of use. MapQuest and its parent, affiliates, and suppliers assume no responsibility for any loss, damage, delay or other liabilities arising from any use.